20a. How does the Committee accomplish its purpose?

The Great Lakes Pilotage Advisory Committee provides a public forum for discussing pilotage issues that impact the safe, reliable, and efficient operation of vessels on the Great Lakes. This process includes the stakeholders and industry providing feedback resulting in a better understanding of issues from the big picture perspective.

20b. How does the Committee balance its membership?

The authorizing statute clearly specifies the constituencies to be represented. It specifies the following 7 members: the President of each of the three Great Lakes pilot associations; representative of Great Lakes ports; representative of shippers whose cargoes are transported through the Great lakes; representative of vessel operators that contract for Great Lakes pilotage service; and one member with a background in finance/accounting.

20c. How frequent and relevant are the Committee Meetings?

The Committee met two times in FY-18. Once in April, provided 7 recommendations. And once in September, provided 4 recommendations.

20d. Why can't the advice or information this committee provides be obtained elsewhere?

The Committee is mandated by statute. The issues affecting Great Lakes Pilotage are broad and diverse and impact the economies of the Great Lakes Marine Transportation System. The GLPAC is the only advisory committee that has the experience and knowledge to advise the Coast Guard on these matters.

20e. Why is it necessary to close and/or partially closed committee meetings?

Action Comments

All GLPAC stakeholders affected by Great Lakes pilotage diligently attend these meetings and have representation on the Committee. Regular attendance of the Canadian Great Lakes Pilotage Authority enhances coordination and awareness which strengthens Great Lakes pilotage efforts. The Committee has been instrumental as a forum for discussing and resolving very contentious and politically charged issues relating to the USCG's statutory responsibility to prepare rates that pilots may charge for their services. GLPAC has also provided very helpful comments on issues relating to safety equipment, pilot boats and computerized pilotage assistance software. GLPAC has also provided a valuable forum for discussion of international pilotage issues that affect both sides of the U.S.-Canadian border. There are current plans to engage the GLPAC on ratemaking methodology, pilot operations and management, and further coordination with the Canadian government. Feedback from the Committee supports agency action on the Great Lakes and provides impetus for further adjustments to the pilotage system.
